

K-12 TEACHER WORKSHOP ON KOREAN HISTORY AND CULTURE: THE KOREAN WAR, PAST AND PRESENT

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 2023 in ROYCE 314, UCLA

UCLA Center for Korean Studies and the Consulate General of the Republic of Korea in Los Angeles are proud to present this in-person workshop for K-12 educators to learn about 20th-century Korea and how to apply history, literature, and popular culture into their curricula.

In recognition of the 70th anniversary of the Korea-US Alliance, this workshop will look at the Korean War and its continued impact today.

Participants will receive complimentary parking, refreshments and lunch, and resources to take back to their classrooms.

Free but limited to first 70 educators who register using the QR code below.
