

EAST ASIA SINCE 1800

FREE PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

This complimentary seminar offers in-depth presentations on the history and culture of the region as well as aids K-12 educators incorporate these learnings into their curriculums. On-campus parking and refreshments will be provided.

This program is sponsored by the USC U.S.-China Institute, the National Consortium for Teaching about Asia, and the Japan Society.

BENEFITS

- $250 stipend
- Resources and materials
- LAUSD: 2 salary points (no fee)
- Other districts: 6 CEUs (fee)

*Must complete seminar requirements

TOPICS

- China in the 19th century
- Meiji Restoration
- K-pop & the two Koreas
- Modern China
- Japan and WWII
- Environment
- Health & Aging
- East Asia through Film

HOW TO APPLY

Application deadline: Rolling acceptance until August 31, 2018

1. Submit your application online at china.usc.edu/seminars
2. Email your resume to asiak12@usc.edu
3. Ask your school principal to confirm your teaching assignment by emailing asiak12@usc.edu
4. Mail a refundable $50 deposit check, payable to "University of Southern California," to the address below to hold your registration. The check will be returned to you at the conclusion of the seminar or should you not be accepted.

Applicants will be notified within one week once all four items are received.

DATES

- Saturday Sep 28 (9am-3:30pm)
- Saturday Oct 5 (9am-3:30pm)
- Monday Oct 21 (5-8pm)
- Saturday Oct 26 (9am-3:30pm)
- Monday Nov 4 (5-8pm)
- Saturday Nov 16 (9am-3:30pm)
- Monday Nov 18 (5-8pm)

ABOUT USCI

The U.S.-China relationship is complex and always changing. Since 2006, the USC U.S.-China Institute (USCI) has focused on informing public discussion about the relationship, in part by tracking key trends in China. Drawing on expertise across the university, we examine issues ranging from agricultural policy, business, and cybersecurity to scientific cooperation, trade and urban planning. USCI experts and programs examine economic, social, cultural, and strategic ties between our two countries. Together the U.S. and China account for a quarter of the world's population, a third of its economic activity, half of its defense spending, and over 40% of greenhouse gas emissions.

Clearly, the U.S.-China relationship is the 21st century's key bilateral relationship. USCI works to enhance understanding of U.S.-China ties through policy-relevant research, innovative instructional programs for students and professionals, timely documentary films and a compelling multimedia web magazine. Visit our website to see our videos, our comprehensive calendar of China-focused events, and our resource collections. Sign up for our newsletter to hear about our timely conferences, lectures and roundtable discussions. Students, teachers, policymakers, journalists, businesspeople and others will all find useful information at our website, YouTube channel, and social media feeds.

SIGN UP
FOR OUR NEWSLETTER

FOR MORE INFORMATION
VISIT CHINA.USC.EDU